

Fire

Once upon a time a girl named Sophie was going out to run. She gonna meet up her friend Evelyn. They were going to the gym to train. When they were on the gym they going to start training.

When they were finished and were changing clothes the fire alarm started. They had to go out in towels. At the first they just thought that it was an exercise and then they saw how the building started to smoke. After a quarter the fire brigade came. They said that everyone should go home. Since Sophie and Evelyn only had a towel they got borrowed clothes from a nice girl. She drove them home to Evelyn. They said thank you to the nice girl and she went.

When they where at Evelyn's house they realized that her keys was on the gym. Since Evelyn lived herself they could not enter. They didn't know what to do because they didn't have their phones either. Finally, Sophie came up with an idea. Her idea was that they would go to Evelyn's neighbors and ask if they could borrow a phone. The first three did not open. The fourth didn't want to lend his phone. They gave up the hope but decided to go to one more. When he open the door, they recognized him. He was an old classmate to the girls. Evelyn had no idea that she lived so close to him. His name was Billy. Billy wasn't very nice when they went to school. But they thought that he was nicer now. They got to borrow his phone and called Evelyn's mother who came and retrieved them. When they came home to Evelyn's mother, they realized that Evelyn's mother had an extra key to Evelyn's house. They drove home to Evelyn again and entered the house.

A few hours later it knocked on the door. It was the police and they said that Evelyn and Sophie could come and see if any of the stuff they removed from the building was theirs. They found a couple of things that were theirs. Finally they got their phones and keys back. They asked some police officers what happened, they thought it was a treadmill or something that had started to burn. When they were just about to leave, a journalist came up to them and asked what had happened. They answered the questions and soon after they went home. Sophie's mother called to check if everything was good and also to tell that Sophie was on the TV.

The next day, Evelyn woke up because it knocked on the door. The police had found out that it was a murder fire and that the girls were called to a hearing. The day after was the day Sophie and Evelyn would be interrogated, just before Sophie would come and pick up Evelyn, she got a call. The police had been given more and better information and it was not a murder fire. The girls returned to their normal lives and everything became as usual again.
